

Transportation

---

Gordon Arata Montgomery Barnett has an extensive history assisting clients whose work involves all sectors of the transportation industry including maritime, trucking, aviation, and rail. With offices headquartered in the port city of New Orleans and along the I-10 corridor, we engage and work with a variety of businesses to guide and advise them as they navigate the complex legal issues associated with transport.

Our firm is home to a team of litigators with the in-depth knowledge and experience needed when handling cases involving all modes of transportation, and we are proud to serve as active members in a number of interest groups including the Trucking Industry Defense Association and the Maritime Law Association of the United States.

For example, our attorneys have successfully defended oilfield service companies, insurance companies and transportation solution providers against claims of personal injury, wrongful death, and property damage. We also advise clients on the extent and nature of insurance coverages appropriate for their current needs, and we also recommend the protections likely to be needed for a client's anticipated expansion and growth.